HONGKONG SHIPOWNERS GIVE VIEWS ON STRIKE

Influenced Only By Grave Commercial Tie-Up

ARE TO ORGANISE Agreement For An Association Is Unanimous

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Hongkong, March 14.—The Chairman of the Ship-owners' Committee has submitted to His Excellency, the Governor, a preliminary report of the strike settlement, of which a copy has been handed to Reuter's correspondent.

The report states inter alia, that while generous concessions have been made in respect to Chinese-owned steamers, the seamen's delegates met the position with the fullest regard to the other lines.

The preliminary difficulty in the negotiations was that the Union demanded a flat percentage increase. It was on this point that it became apparent at the outset that difficulties were almost sure to arise between the Union and the owners. Negotiations eventually progressed upon a basis of percentages for various lines. The result has been that where low pay was in evidence, the owners were willing to concede generous terms, and although the original demand of the seamen in this particular respect was for an increase of 40 percent, it will be seen that they eventually accepted 30 percent.

In the case of higher paid services, such as European and Pacific lines, the original demands called for a 30 to 40 percent increase, and the settlement resulted in the men accepting a 15 to 20 percent increase.

The ship-owners in making such concessions as they have done, were not unduly influenced by anything other than the grave commercial holdup and the hardship entailed on those entirely disinterested for the points of the disagreement between the Union and the ship-owners.

As far as strike pay was concerned in the case of unabsorbed seamen, Mr. R. Sutherland writes: "I must explain that late in the evening of March 4, when the hitch in the signing of the agreement occurred, Mr. Jamieson and myself were confronted with an unreasonable demand in the shape of a guarantee of six months half-pay, if the positions were not held open for the returning seamen on their arrival. This demand was largely responsible for the breakdown or rather the suspension of the negotiations, as Mr. Jamieson stated that it was not fair to ask the shipping companies to accept it, and on behalf of the shipping companies I stated that I saw no hope that such an unwarranted concession would be made."

"During the final negotiations with the delegates Mr. Jamieson announced that the ship-owners had refused the demand in connection with a 5% months half-pay and that he considered they were fully justified in so doing. The Consul-General appealed to the Seamen's Union and to the representatives of the Canton Chamber of Commerce to subscribe to the movement so generously put forward and as far as the Canton Chamber of Commerce was concerned, they promised to submit the proposal to their main body."

"From the Government Gazette I learnt that Sir Robert Ho Tung was responsible for the establishment of the fund in question. This, in a measure, was a charitable fund entirely outside the province of the ship-owners, but at the meeting on March 8, when the agreement was ratified, I appealed to the owners to do their utmost to assist the administrator of the fund whoever he might be, in making a fair distribution under the terms of our agreement. It was, however, generally understood that the fund must be entirely dissociated with the ship-owners, and be administered by an independent official."

It has long been recognised that the present system of engaging crews is unsatisfactory to the men. The system is not that of the owners but of the men. Speaking on behalf of the steamship companies concerned, I would say that we will welcome and will assist in the inauguration of any scheme

SENATE TO TAKE TEST BALLOT ON TREATIES TODAY

Amendment Pledges Signors Against Acts Of Aggression

(Reuter's Service)
Washington, March 14.—After the speeches of Senator Johnson and Borah alleging that the Four-Power Treaty constituted a Quadruple Alliance, the Senate unanimously agreed to vote tomorrow on the amendment proposed by Senator Robinson, the effect of which will be to pledge the signatories against any act of aggression and to provide that in any future controversy all the nations affected will be invited to participate in the resulting conference.

London, March 13.—Replying to Rear-Admiral Sir William Hall in the House of Commons today, Sir Arthur Balfour said that the Washington treaties were only binding after ratification. No machinery had been proposed for dealing with amendments submitted by any of the countries concerned.

There seemed to be no advantage in discussing whether the arrangements would fall to the ground in the event of the American House of Representatives introducing important modifications to the Pacific Treaty.

(China Press Service)
Washington, March 13.—The question of who wrote the Four Power Treaty again came up despite Hughes' statement that he wrote it. Johnson and Borah wanted to know why, if he wrote it, he found it necessary to attach a reservation to it. Senator Johnson of California today recalled the Four Power Treaty telling the Senate that it was a "Quadruple Alliance" the ratification of which would mean the digression from American traditions and a national surrender under the threat of foreign powers.

Chinese Gets Writ To Re-enter Islands

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Feb. 26.—A former Chinese resident of the Philippines, who returned to the Islands after an absence of ten years, was permitted recently by the Supreme Court to land despite a ruling of the collector of customs that he had forfeited this right.

It was the contention of the customs authorities that an absence of ten years operated as a bar to admission but the supreme court held the contrary, citing the case of Li Sul Wun (32 Phil. Reports 151) as a precedent.

INDIAN, CALLED WORLD'S OLDEST MAN, DEAD AT 137

Pneumonia Fatal To Chipewa; Outlived Eight Wives

(Reuter's Service)
Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 7.—Ka-Be-Nah Givew-Wence, also known as John Smith, a Chipewa Indian reputed to be 137 years old, died here today after a week's illness with pneumonia.

The United States Bureau of Indian Affairs, the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society and other historic societies interested in this famous aborigine accepted the claim of Ka-Be-Nah Givew-Wence and his fellow Indians on the Minnesota reservation that he was "the oldest living person in the world."

Ka-Be-Nah Givew-Wence was also known as Wah-ha-gunta, and would even answer to plain John Smith. According to the Bureau of Indian Affairs he was first raker of the once powerful Blackfoot tribe. His declining days were spent on the north bank of Mud Lake, twelve miles from the village of Ball Club, Minn.

where he lived in a hut of birch bark. He outlived eight wives, and when long past the century mark he was still young enough to woo another.

His once powerful frame slowly wasted, his hair turned pure white, and his face became leamed like a walrus hide, but his step was still sprightly and he never stepped from his hut without humming some tune. His usual fondness for music was one of his peculiarities. Often he walked the twelve miles to Ball Club to hear a piano or violin, his favorite musical instruments.

Historians made use of the Indian's remarkable memory to corroborate stories of the Indian fights, some of them back as far as 1800. Smith was often able to give the year, month and sometimes the day of Indian happenings that had been lost track of. Indian customs, closely followed, he considered the big factor in extending life so long.

Government Passes Buck In Famine Relief Work Local Committee Declares

anking Bureau Advises All Hsiens To Draw On Shanghai Body, Although Former Had Over Million In Funds

Charges that the Government famine relief bureau for this province is "passing the buck" in the matter of famine aid and the question of disposal of funds known to be in the hands of the Nanking organization are raised in a statement issued by the local Chinese-Foreign Famine Relief Committee.

The statement is as follows: "The Nanking Branch of the Government Relief Bureau has lately sent out a circular letter to practically all the 50-odd hsiens in Kiangsu intimating that the Shanghai Chinese-Foreign Famine Relief Committee, having plenty of money on hand, should take the entire responsibility for the Kiangsu Province."

"Since then our Committee here is being besieged by a useless stream of delegates, in most cases from districts where no famine exists, the impression being that each hsiens is entitled to demand help from us."

"Our Committee desires publicity for the following facts:

"(1) That, on their own showing, the aforesaid Nanking Government Famine Relief Bureau has, or had, the sum of $1,027,500.00 for Famine Relief, which they refused to pool with our Committee for the efficient handling of Relief-Measures. How this money (and sums received by them later) has been used we do not know, but certainly not in efficient relief."

"(2) Ne have received $395,000.00 from Customs Surtax—for the Kiangsu Province and, as stated from time to time, we are disbursing that money in the affected areas through International Committees."

"Briefly the allocations are as follows: Chinkiang Sub-Committee (covering a large area)$67,000.00

Taichow Sub-Committee 40,000.00

Antung Sub-Committee 10,000.00

Yencheng Sub-Committee 48,000.00

Hwai'an Sub-Committee 12,000.00

Tsinckiangpu Sub-Committee 50,000.00

Sea Coast Drainage Work in connection with Grand Canal Conservancy Board and Local Bodies, they paying three fourths of cost 12,000.00

Total$347,000.00

"We plan to give at least three fourths of this in grain, and except in cases of starving women and children, the relief is given in return for labor on public works of some kind."

"Some of the above schemes will have to be extended; while other needy centers are being investigated, and we only have $49,000.00 now available. Another $100,000.00 is likely to come to us later."

"It is well that the general public, both Chinese and Foreign, should know the facts, for, after all, our Committee is only assisting in this work, the responsibility for which is really on the Government and its Nanking Officials."

(China Press Correspondence)
Peking, March 12.—Inefficiency of famine relief funds is the universal cry of all famine districts in China. One worker in Hwangchow, Hunan, upon receipt of a grant, wired as follows:

"The people of Hwangchow thank you for the $3,000. We give out rice but one person can only receive at the utmost two sheng. This is eaten up in one or two days. What then, they ask, if we mean to save the people we need much more help."

HOSPITAL SUED FOR TIS. 41,386 BY CONTRACTOR

Suit against the Shanghai General Hospital for Tis. 41,386.25 was begun by a Chinese contractor, Wong Kor-song, in the British Supreme Court yesterday. The hearing was before Judge Peter Grain and Mr. Reader Harris, with Mr. Brown, appeared for the plaintiff, while Mr. R. N. MacLeod and Mr. Mancel Reece appeared for the Hospital.

The plaintiff's claim is that under a contract dated April 20, 1917 he was given the work of building a new wing to the General Hospital on the West side, in accordance with specifications and plans under the contract at a price of Tis. 228,866.

Under the provisions of the specifications there were various materials which were to be supplied by the defendants and fixed by the plaintiff. It is alleged that the Shanghai General Hospital failed to supply the materials, and that the plaintiff was thus prevented from carrying out the work and suffering damages to the extent of Tis. 41,386.

In their defence the hospital denied many of the plaintiff's contentions, and joined issue with them. They denied that the plaintiff was delayed in the work of building, and maintained that no extra work was carried out. Under the contract all disputes were to be referred to the architects, but the plaintiff submitted this was not the correct interpretation of the clause in the contract. The plaintiff further stated that the architects were prejudiced against him inasmuch as there was a dispute with regard to storing of the architect's goods in the plaintiff's godowns.

It is expected that the hearing will occupy several sittings of the Court.

CHAMBERLAIN DEFENDS CURZON IN INDIA DEBATE

Regrets Publication By Montagu As Breach Of Faith

(Reuter's Service)
London, March 13.—In the House of Commons yesterday there was a lively discussion on Mr. Montagu's speech.

At question time Mr. Austen Chamberlain said that Lord

Curzon had called his attention to the Indian Government's first telegram prior to the Cabinet meeting on March 6, representing its publication as contrary to public interest. Mr. Chamberlain agreed and was surprised when afterwards, on mentioning the matter to Mr. Montagu, the latter had said he had already authorized publication.

Mr. Montagu gave no hint to Lord Curzon that there was time to prevent publication of the telegram. Mr. Chamberlain deplored Mr. Montagu's reference to Lord Curzon's private letter of which Lord Curzon had not even kept a copy.

It was the kind of letter members of the Cabinet often wrote to one another, and he added, Lord Curzon was in bed in the country but he telephoned that he was coming to London.

The reply to Mr. Montagu will be given in the House of Lords tomorrow.

Mr. Chamberlain resented Mr. Wedgwood's insinuations that the reasons publicly given for Mr. Montagu's resignation were a mere pretext.

Mr. T. P. O'Connor yielded to appeals to postpone his motion until Lord Curzon had made his statement and Mr. Montagu was able to attend.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO RECALL ARMY UNITS FROM CHINA

Slash In Appropriations Makes Move Necessary

(China Press Service)
Washington, March 13.—The appropriations bill was passed with provisions necessitating the reduction of the regular army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers.

The bill carries $270,353,030 which is $116,000,000 less than the expenses of the current year and $87,996,086 less than the budget estimates.

This would require the return to the United States by July first of all troops in China, 6,600 from Hawaii, 2,000 from Panama and all but 500 officers and men from Germany.

No limitations were placed on the Philippine garrison but the report says that Secretary Weeks believed that a reduction would be possible even there.

The contemplated withdrawal of troops in order to cut expenses would leave 5,000 troops in Hawaii and Panama. The report says:

"It seems to be the fixed policy of the general staff to station full divisions at Hawaii and Panama. It is not believed except in times of emergency that such a policy is justified as it will cost as much to maintain these two divisions as our entire regular army cost us in years following the Spanish-American War."

London, March 13.—It was announced today that the British Army estimates for the coming year are £62,000,000 pounds as compared with £93,000,000 last year.

General Bundy Going To Manila

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Feb. 28.—Major General Omar Bundy, United States Army, has been detailed to command the Philippine tactical division, according to press dispatches from America. He will, however, be subordinate to the commander of the Philippine department.

General Bundy served in the Philippines during the insurrection and for several years thereafter. He was commander of the second division of American troops at Chateau Thierry.

GOVERNMENT GETS UPPER HAND IN BIG RAND STRIKE

Rebels Retreating In All Directions, Report

CAPITAL IS SAFE

General Smuts In Control Of Situation; Many Dead

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 14.—A series of Government successes attended by very slight losses, is reported by Reuter's Johannesburg correspondent, indicating that the rebels are retreating in all directions. The risk of Johannesburg falling into the hands of the revolutionaries has disappeared.

The defence force commanded by Lieut-General Sir Louis Deventer, has captured the important townships of Benoni and Dunsfontein on the Far East Rand and is now marching on Brakpan. On the west, the Fordeburg commando, which is close to Johannesburg, has not yet been attacked and is digging itself in, but further along the Government troops have occupied the villages of Roodeport and Florida and are marching on Maraisburg where the revolutionaries are strongly entrenched in the hills. General Smuts controls the whole situation.

Bloemfontein, March 14.—The main railway line was dynamited near the Transval border today. The pilot engine was derailed but there were no casualties.

Pretoria, March 14.—The Government troops are closing in upon the revolutionaries from the east and west.

Pretoria, March 13.—An official communique states that 1,200 prisoners have been captured by the military in the operations in the central area.

An aeroplane was forced to descend and another broke its undercarriage in attempting to rescue the stranded airmen.

A third machine landed and rescued two of the stranded airmen and others, one of whom was wounded.

The revolutionaries retired after a heavy engagement into Benoni. The troops have reached Krugersdorp and are now pushing eastward.

Operations continued throughout the day in the vicinity of Pretoria and the Germiston Railway, which, in spite of heavy bombings, the rebels persist in attempting to damage.

Colonel Breytenbach's forces have occupied Rietfontein.

(China Press Service)
London, March 13.—A despatch from Johannesburg says: "It is learned through the capture of Spies' men and documents that money for the Rand revolution came from abroad. It is expected that peace soon will be restored."

Johannesburg, March 13.—At least a hundred are believed to have been killed in Saturday's fighting. Several commanders were wounded attempting to gain control of Johannesburg before the arrival of reinforcements.

Hawaiian Volcano Is To Be Explored

(Reuter's Service.)
Honolulu, Jan. 17.—Extensive drillings into the great active volcano of Kilauea, on the island of Hawaii, will be undertaken during 1922 in an endeavor to determine the heat of the volcano, the quantity of steam underneath, the mineral constituents and the solution of other related questions.

Professor T. A. Jaggar, Jr., Government volcanologist at Hawaii, announced here today.

A fund of $8,000 has been raised to defray the expense of the experiments, $3,000 having been contributed by Mr. John Brooks Henderson, scientist of Washington, D. C., and the remainder having been given by Hilo and Honolulu businessmen.

The places of most interest are where the ground is hot from recent or ancient volcanic activity. Professor Jaggar said in explaining the proposed drillings, "Borings will be undertaken at the sulphur banks, at several places in the bottom of Kilauea crater, and in the region of recent lava flows at Kau Desert."

"It is aimed to penetrate the surface where the lava flows are of known date, so as to learn what changes of temperature underground have taken place with the passage of time. This is the most important scientific and practical problem involved in the borings—how hot is the volcano and what are the steam and water conditions under an active volcano?"

Three Alaskan Products

A sheaf of Alaska wheat, the first loaf of bread baked from Alaskan flour and Miss Lena White, of the Alaska Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, who spent her childhood in the North, which all goes to prove that Alaska is not what many people think it to be. It has always been the prevailing opinion that Alaska was ice-bound the year round, but they are growing wheat now in the shadow of the Arctic Circle, and housewives of the North are making bread from home grown flour.

Mrs. Ayscough Lectures On The Sacred Mountain

The Literary Section of the British Women's Association met yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Ayscough's delightful home on Gordon Road. Tea was served to the large number who gathered there, after which Mrs. Cecil Maguire, Secretary of the Section, announced that an invitation had been extended by the American Women's Club to the next general meeting, Tuesday, March 21, at which the program would be in charge of the Literary Department.

Mr. Charles Kilene will be the speaker at this time and his subject "Readings from Chinese Mythology."

Mrs. Francis Ayscough gave the address of the afternoon on "T'ai Shan—The Peak of the East" and a large number of beautiful illustrations, Mrs. Ayscough's long study of the life and literature of China made her a most able and sympathetic guide on this pilgrimage to the Sacred Mountain and her audience felt that a genuine opportunity had been accorded them to come closer to an understanding of the religious aspirations of this land.

Mrs. Ayscough prefaced her discussion of T'ai Shan with a brief outline of the development of the religious worship of China, which passed through three stages, first the Primal Ancient, lasting till the rise of the Chou Dynasty, a monotheism; next the mid-ancient which stretched to the 6th century, a dualism in which Heaven represented divine majesty, Earth, divine care; and, third, the near-ancient, stretching to some epoch subsequent to our era, with minor deities like saints. These last deities were located in heaven, the air or earth, the last named being gods of roads, localities or mountains and thus the T'ai Shan was one of those subordinate deities.

"Many 'Shades' are connected with the T'ai Shan," said Mrs. Ayscough, "and it is through their worship that we gain an account of the worship of this sacred place. The great ruler Shun, he of the double pupils eyes, paid a 'Wang' offering to T'ai Shan and Confucius has many stories on the mountain dedicated to his memory. The original honors paid to the Sacred Mountain were original with those paid to the 'Three Dukes,' the highest functionaries of the Court, but titles were added to titles till the founder of the Ming Dynasty declared that human titles were inadequate and decreed that in the future the mountain should be known as 'The Peak of the East.'"

"The general attributes of the Sacred Mountain are of two sorts. It is a mass which lowers about the plains and controls the surrounding country, preventing earthquakes and floods. Again the clouds and rain clustering round its head, from which the plains below are watered, has given the name 'He who assembles the clouds.' Since the mountain is 'The Peak of the East' it presides over the Yang principle from which spring the sun, light, heat and all life-giving energies.

"Hung Wu, the founder of the Ming Dynasty, was a profound worshipper of T'ai Shan, and ascribed to its aid his rise from cowherd, to soldier, then to the title of Prince Wu and last to Emperor. Ching T'ai of the Ming Dynasty also prayed to the mountain in time of discouragement, not only entreating its help but placing the responsibility for the misfortunes of his people upon the deity. Elaborate sacrifices were offered on its altars of Heaven and Earth and also on the Altar of Audience where the Emperor received the congratulations of his people after the conclusion of the formal ceremonies. The Jade Emperor, Chen T'ang, performed sacrifices of such tremendous expense that the custom was prohibited thereafter.

"The worship of T'ai Shan was no less popular with the common people and continues so to this day, but they have extended its functions, saying that since it controls life it must also govern death and praying to it for long life. One poet writes, 'My days are on the wane for the Peak of the East has given me rendezvous.' It is on the slopes of this mountain that one of the entrances to the lower world, the home of the spirits of the departed, is supposed to exist and many memorial tablets are set up. The road is thronged with pilgrims, specially during the first four months of the year, and beggars grow rich from the alms of those who obtain merit by giving them cash. The worship of the Daughter of the Mountain Spirit, the Goddess of the Colored Clouds, has also grown up and women pray to her for offspring."

Mrs. Ayscough ranks her visit to the T'ai Shan as one of the most rewarding of her trips in China.

Rice Is $12 Per Picul; Two Local Societies Protest

The increase in the price of rice in Shanghai was the subject of two protests made yesterday lodged with the Civil Governor of Kiangsu. Rice has leaped up to $12 per picul, which is one dollar more than the standard price fixed by the Magistrate of Shanghai City.

The two protests were filed by the Woosung and Shanghai Food-stuff Maintenance Association, an outgrowth of the rice strike last year and the Shanghai headquarters of the Labor Union of China. They asked for strict regulation against profiteering in rice.

FAMOUS SINGER TO BE HEARD HERE IS FINE LINGUIST

Lydia Lipkowsky, the beautiful young Russian singer, who will be heard in Shanghai on March 22 in a grand concert, and on March 25 in a costume recital, in common with most accomplished Russian women, is a linguist of undoubted ability.

The extreme difficulties of the Russian language, for the foreigner, make it practically impossible for a Russian to learn at least one other tongue. That is usually French. Few of the accomplished Russians, however, are satisfied with that; they progress to other languages of Latin origin, usually Italian, and Spanish and then, having mastered these, try English.

Such has been the case with Lipkowsky, the coloratura soprano whose singing of the leading role in Rimsky-Korsakoff's opera "Snezhnaya Korolchka," in the Chicago Opera Company this season won her unstinted praise from the critics.

Madame Lipkowsky's environment brought her into contact with brilliant minds of diverse nationalities so that even though she would have been a linguist with the additional incentive of a premier upon all the famous opera stages of the world, however, she perfected herself in the languages of music so that she is able, now, to give costume recitals in Russian, her native tongue, and in French, Spanish, Italian and English.

Each of Madame Lipkowsky's songs will be rendered in a costume of the nation whose music she is singing. These national costumes have been developed in the most exquisite fabrics and colors and form in each a perfect background for the magnetic beauty of the young artist whose voice and art have charmed audiences all over the world.

CONSTABLE SLAIN BY ARMED THIEF IN YANGTSEPOO

Another police victim to the pistol bullets of armed robbers was claimed early yesterday morning when Chinese Constable 438, Kuo Wei-tsun, was shot to death in an alleyway off Ford Lane, Yangtsepo, when he and another policeman stopped two suspicious characters.

The policemen noticed the two men acting in a suspicious manner shortly after 1:30 a.m. and approached them to investigate. As Constable 438 started to search one of the pair the latter whipped out an automatic and fired, a bullet taking effect in the policeman's head and killing him almost instantly. The other constable pursued the bandits and succeeded in capturing the companion of the man who fired the shots. He was unarmed, but had a coil of rope around his waist and when questioned at Wavside station admitted that he and the other man had intended to rob a house at 789 Yangtsepo Road.

The man captured was charged at the Mixed Court yesterday and the case was remanded for one week. At the inquest held by Assessor Tenney and Magistrate Kwan yesterday afternoon a verdict was returned that the deceased constable was murdered by a person or persons unknown while in the execution of duty.

Kiangsu Assembly Brings Ten Criminal Indictments Against Gen. Wu Pei-fu

Thirty-Seven Legislatures Accuse Supertuchun Of Treason, Murder, Extortion And Bribery In Circular Telegram Addressed To Nation

Ten criminal charges have been brought against Wu Pei-fu, super-tuchun of Hupeh and Hunan in a circular telegram addressed to the nation by 37 members of the Provincial Assembly of Kiangsu. The charges are: treason, murder, extortion, bribery and misappropriation. Among the crimes that the Kiangsu assembly have accused the Chihli leader of committing.

A translation of the text of the telegram follows:

"Chao has reigned the Republic of China in nine of the ten years of its existence. Its days can be numbered. It is allowed to prevail. Of the military, Wu Pei-fu is the most wily. The nation is aware of how contrary his acts are to his words. He circulates the country with telegrams, denouncing militarism, yet he himself dares to do things which no other militarists would do. He scores the politicians for their ambition and avarice, but he himself lends his support to political intrigues and conferences that are truly illegal. The people of the country are intoxicated by his power and are silent over his intolerable oppression. Consequently Wu styles himself as the hero of the age and becomes as unscrupulous as ever."

"We, the Kiangsu Assembly, deem him, because he poses as an honest leader but acts like a traitor and robber. Imperialistic and crafty as the militarists and politicians are at present, none of them can rank Wu Pei-fu. In analyzing his character, we find ten crimes that stand out in bold relief. Below we enumerate them:

1. When Wu was stationed in Hanyang, he reached an understanding with the Canton Government whereby he received several lakhs of dollars. He withdrew his troops northward to eliminate the Anfu and the Hunan province was able to rid itself of the Tuchun, Chang Chin-yao. This was all to Wu's credit. But when Hupeh raised its cry for self-government, to which Wu himself had previously subscribed himself, he, dazzled by the gold and honor of the Hupeh Tuchunship and anxious to succeed Wang Chan-yuan, double-crossed the "righteous army." He ruined the self-government movement and antagonized the Southern Army. A more treacherous act could not be found in history.

2. In the Hunan-Hupeh combat, Wu smashed the dyke at Chingchow and flooded the entire district in order to drown the Hunan troops. Several thousand Hupeh civilians were also murdered. The press was full of accounts of the murderous act and the public considered it as one of the most inhumane acts in modern warfare. Yet Wu still attempted to pull wool over the eyes of the public by sending out his lengthy argumentation on the subject.

3. Wu had openly declared to the world that he would never become a Tuchun of any province. Yet today he is a super-tuchun. While the public is clamoring for disarmament and reduction of military expenses, Wu is recruiting new troops and increasing his expenses. Five new Mixed Brigades have been organized in Loyang. The arsenals at Tschow, Hanyang and Kiangsi have been remodelled to suit his private military needs. What benefit can the general public derive from these changes? When Marshal Joffre was in Peking, the presence of 1,500,000 soldiers in China was the subject of a comment made by him. He wanted to see less of soldiery in China. Yet Wu was just then increasing his forces and equipments for the purpose of killing his own fellow-countrymen.

4. While in Hankow, Wu tried to secure a Japanese loan, pledging the receipts of the southern section of the Peking-Hankow Railway as security. The Japanese financiers stipulated that the Ministry of Communications should sign the agreement and negotiations were deadlocked. Failing this, he secured what is known as the Chengchow Commercial Port Loan. It is reported that Wu received as much as $600,000 as his commission. The question was put to him point blank by Liang Shih-yi, but Wu made no reply, silently admitting his crime.

5. During his stay in Hupeh, Wu seized all kinds of revenue belonging to the Central Government and the receipt of the Kiangsu Railway. He established an "Agency for the Handling of Administrative Funds," manned and operated in accordance with his own wishes. Although he was not independent from the Central Government, he virtually rebelled against the government. Recently, he further seized the salt revenue of Hotung, causing vehement protests from the Diplomatic Corps of Peking, which charged that the Central Government is no longer able to control the militarists. This gives the foreign powers another chance to raise the cry of international control of Chinese finance, which gave China such a setback at the Washington Conference.

6. The Constitution of the Republic vested the sovereignty in the people of the nation, whose power is expressed in the legislation of the National Parliament. Wu opposes the operation of the Parliament and defies the provisions of the Constitution. With his ulterior motive, he calls the convocation of a Conference of National Affairs to carry out his own political aspirations. The move is not made on sound principles, so it had met with only meagre support of the provinces.

7. The financial condition of our country has already reached a pitiful condition. Bankruptcy is staring the nation in the face. Yet militarists continue to extort money from the Central Government. Wu's demand amounted to $20,000,000. The financial authorities at Peking were forced to borrow money at high interest. The present administration is issuing a huge loan in order to satisfy the avarice of the militarists. This loan, the Salt Surplus issue, is for the reorganization of the entire financial system of China and is believed by economists as a scientific measure for the liquidation of the present situation. Yet Wu repeatedly files his protest against the issue, because he himself was not promised a lion's share of the proceeds.

8. Parliament has been dissolved. The constitution has lost its force. The people are advocating self-government for the protection of their interest. They are creating the provincial constitution as a preliminary measure for their salvation. The abolition of the Tuchunate and disarmament of course will follow later. Wu, knowing that the movement would spell his doom, has adopted every plan to oppress it.

9. Extensive armament for private needs is the aspiration of Wu Pei-fu. He was not content by merely seizing the revenues of the Central Government, he is today extorting money from the Chambers of Commerce at Wuchang and Hankow, as well as from the Banks of China and Communications in these cities. From the banks, he has succeeded in getting more than a million dollars. He is also increasing the taxes in the district under his control. Recent telegrams indicate that he has ordered Hsiao Yao-nan, the Hupeh Tuchun, to assess $2,000,000 for military expenses. How can the Hupehese tolerate such cruelty? Hupeh cannot rest for a moment until this traitor is removed!

10. Last year, Cheng Shen of Changtehfu, Honan, was instructed by Wu to rebel against Chao Ti, the Honan Tuchun, who had been Wu's eternal enemy. The news leaked out and Cheng was defeated. Wu then forced Cheng to commit suicide in order that the truth of the matter may not be published.

The message was signed by 37 Assemblymen of Kiangsu under the leadership of Hua Yen-chien, Feng Shih-teh and Tsao Chien-an.

Bulgaria's Rose Valley In Danger

(Reuter's Service)

Philippopolis, Bulgaria, Feb. 4.—Bulgaria's famous Valley of Roses, which produces 90 percent of the world's supply of the fragrant attar, is threatened with extinction. More than half the bushes in the entire area at the foot of the Balkan Mountains, covering thousands of acres, are affected with a disease resembling phylloxera. Horticultural experts have been unable to determine its exact nature or treatment. The Minister of Agriculture is offering prizes for the discovery of a remedy.

Last year's yield of the delicate rose essence was only 3,000 kilograms (about 6,500 pounds), owing largely to the prevalence of this disease, which attacks the root of the rose. Many Bulgarian rose-growers are taking to tobacco culture because they find it easier and more profitable than rose culture.

The present wholesale price of oil of roses is about $125 a pound. In the fashionable perfumery shops of Paris, London and New York it sells for about five times this amount. It requires 2,000 pounds of petals to make a single pound of essence.

SOVIET ON SHIP TRANSFERRED TO AMERICAN PRISON

Stiff Sentences Are Given To William Dollar Seamen Who Defied Officers' Orders

Through the orderly processes of the court of U.S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl a new fabled soviet that came into being aboard the steamer William Dollar while the ship was on the high seas was transferred yesterday en bloc to the American jail.

Six sentences were imposed in as many cases and as these run from sixty to ninety days prospects are that the new soviet will function behind bars for some time to come.

The defendants in the cases were A. Hughes, T. Swenson, Patrick Higgins, Jan Roos, Joe Scott and Neils Petersen—a racial melange drawn from the Scandinavian lands, from the Netherlands, from Erin and from the United States.

When the ship, a sailing barque, came to port last Sunday from San Francisco and Port Angeles the skipper, Capt. P. A. McDonald, unfolded a dolorous story of his experiences at sea to Capt. W. L. Eisler, U. S. Shipping Board Representative here and to the American Consulate. According to the captain's narrative, and as disclosed yesterday in the testimony, the trouble started when Hughes converted a number of other members of the crew of twenty men to adherence to the organization known as the Independent Workers of the World, for which he was an organizer.

The group that he formed, according to the testimony given, sought to function according to the best soviet precepts and, as the captain explained, orders he gave for the safeguarding of the ship became the subject of discussions and time after time his authority and that of the mate were openly defied. One defendant, testifying in his own defense yesterday, explained to the court that a certain order the captain had given was disregarded because the men concluded that it was unnecessary.

Mr. H. R. Snyder conducted the case for the Government as Special U. S. District Attorney and the witnesses for the prosecution included Captain Eisler, Vice-Consul Wright, Captain McDonald, Carl Moller, first mate of the barque, and Oscar Olsen, the boatswain. At the conclusion of the hearing which lasted from 5 in the afternoon until 7 o'clock Mr. Snyder asked the court to impose the maximum penalties and this was done in the case of Hughes who was given 90 days in jail. Each of the others received sentences of 60 days.

The Quaints

The Quaints, just back from a big success in the North, where they gave performances of the shows that made such a hit in Shanghai, opened last night at the Lyceum Theater in a five night return engagement, by request. Their new show, which they are presenting to Shanghai before their return to England is under the direction of R. B. Salisbury who plays the leading role in the one act playlet "The Dream" and is seen in the second part of the program in several impersonations which he puts over in his inimitable fashion.

"The Dream," in one act, with prologue and epilogue, is the tale of a modern young man who fails to satisfy his fiancée's romantic ideas of delicate lovemaking until he has had a dream which carries him into Pierrot Land where there is no housing problem and where young men give lessons in kissing, their subjects being perfectly charming British girls.

In the second part of the program, which is a medley of vaudeville acts, enlivened by sparkling humor, tuneful music and snappy dancing, the ubiquitous and wholly delightful Mr. Salisbury convulsed the audience with his impersonation of a country vicar putting on the annual entertainment for the poor.

Jessie Hitter, in singing and dancing, Mavis French and Dorothy James are three perfectly good reasons why Shanghai will want to see The Quaints again before they close on Saturday night.

Purim Ball Tonight

The Purim grand fancy dress ball in aid of the Shanghai Hebrew Relief Society, which is to be held at the Astor House tonight, promises to be an exceedingly interesting and profitable affair. The program includes popular songs and dances by local amateurs of note, Japanese features and a grand concert and there will be prizes for the best dressed lady and gentleman and for the most original lady's costume. The admission price is $5, which includes supper, and the ball is scheduled to begin at 9:30 o'clock.

Baseball Chiefs Decide On President And Captain

McIntyre To Carry On Another Year; Hopkins Probable For Captain

Shanghai baseball chiefs are taking their first steps towards the building up of a real season for 1922. They have held their first committee meeting; they have finally wished the post of president on one of their number, and have all but appointed a captain to serve until the squad gets together for a real vote.

The baseball meeting committee held last week was the first time the five committees met together this year. Affairs discussed were not made public in full but a few of the more important points were made available for the fans who, with the warming weather are thinking more and more of the game.

Freddy Bills, who had the post of president forced upon him by the odd regulations governing the elections, which gives that office to the committee member receiving the most votes has finally been able to turn his scepter over to last year's president, Mr. F. W. McIntyre. M. C. Hopkins who is slated for first base this year, relieving former Capt. Cy Wilhoit, will undoubtedly lead the players through the training season at least.

McIntyre's acceptance of the presidential berth relieves the committee of its chief cause for worry. Bills felt that as a player he could not properly handle the affairs of President, yet he could not resign. Should he refuse to serve, the chair must fall to Jack Smith, who was second popular choice as a committee member, but Smith, also a player, and booked for the secretary's portfolio had to pass it. Fortunately McIntyre was willing to carry on as nominal president, and the problem was solved.

Hopkins' choice as captain has not yet been announced, but it is almost certain that it soon will be, and it is believed that he will accept. Bills was mentioned also for temporary captain, but was not enthusiastic at accepting. The two men were considered because of their long baseball experience here as the only logical names to consider.

The committee discussed the prospects for 1922 baseball and it found them bright. The financing of interport games, with the best lines in the Far East visiting here for series is the chief problem for the committee this year, for with no high class clubs booked to come on their own as they did for the Olympics and Open Games last year the local club will have to pay up for every outside team they bring in. The club has a fair balance now, and with full co-operation all around, it is anticipated that several series may be arranged. Inquiries are already being put out for tentative arrangements.

The club this spring will start off the season conceding itself the same membership enrolled in 1921—655 members. Instead of coming from the bottom with a drive for members, the secretary will be authorized to send a chit to every old member with a reminder to get up to date. After the 655 are all signed up again, which is expected to be on the next No. 1 day, the rest of Shanghai will be booked. Last year's record membership is deemed to fall way behind this season, baseball men say. It may be boosted to an even thousand.

Hongkong Tennis Championships On

(China Press Service)

Hongkong, March 3.—The annual tennis tournament of the Hongkong Cricket Club commenced yesterday afternoon. The ground was in good condition, but unfortunately several entrants failed to turn up.

In the Club Championship Lieut. A. S. Lindell secured an easy win over E. L. Leader, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2. C. C. Stirling to turn up.

E. L. Leader (scr.) beat G. H. Piercy (rec. 4-6), 7-5, 6-1, in the Handicap Singles B.

In the open Doubles Championship the brothers H. D. and A. H. Rumjahn entered the second round through failure of their opponents, M. D. C. Sandberg and L. Trambitsky, to turn up.

L. Nelson had a walk over in the Open Singles Championship. M. D. C. Sandberg was again the absentee.

ALL REFEREES AT HONGKONG QUIT THE GAME

(China Press Correspondence)

Hongkong, March 10.—Practically every football referee, of the Hongkong Football Association, including their secretary resigned here on Tuesday, when the association voted to "clean the slate" of pending charges of roughness or dangerous play against local players. The charges had been made by the referees in various games here this fall. The referees opposed the proposal when it was first broached, and when a vote overruled them, they quit. Referees contend that the washing out of charges made by them against players leave them in a precarious position. The local press here carries notices soliciting volunteers to officiate at matches.

Sporting Editor's Letter Box

Dear Sir:

I believe I am correct in supposing that the Public Recreation ground was originally purchased for the benefit of the Foreign Community of Shanghai?

Nevertheless the ground was reserved for the sole use of the Paper Hunt Club on Saturday, March 11 to the exclusion of scores of would-be footballers etc., and, mark you, reserved for Paper Hunt Races in which Chinese jockeys were eligible to ride.

Is it not time that the various clubs interested in the Recreation ground take up the question of the arbitrary closing of the ground by the Race Club? It is reasonable that the ground should be closed for the Spring and Autumn Race meetings but what objection could there be to the use of the Cricket Club and Shanghai Recreation Club grounds last Saturday?

I do not believe that the Race Club have any right to close the ground to the public other than during the two official meetings. If the games playing public is at the mercy of the Race Club in this way there is no knowing where it will end as the number of race meetings appear to increase yearly.

In any case the public has a right to know how it stands in regard to the closing of its Public (Sic) Recreation ground.

Yours truly,
Rao, Soc.
Shanghai, March 14, 1922.

Hongkong Ponies Sold At Auction

Hongkong, March 2 (by mail).—Sixty-five of the ponies in the last Hongkong races were auctioned off here yesterday. The entire lot realised a little over $4,000. With the exception of Hongkong Chief, which brought $1,050, and several other ponies, the ponies were knocked down at prices from $20 up.

All seven of the late Sir Ellis Kadoorie's ponies were sold. Bidding for Hongkong Chief was spirited between Mr. H. P. White and Mr. A. M. L. Soares, Mr. Soares finally buying the pony.

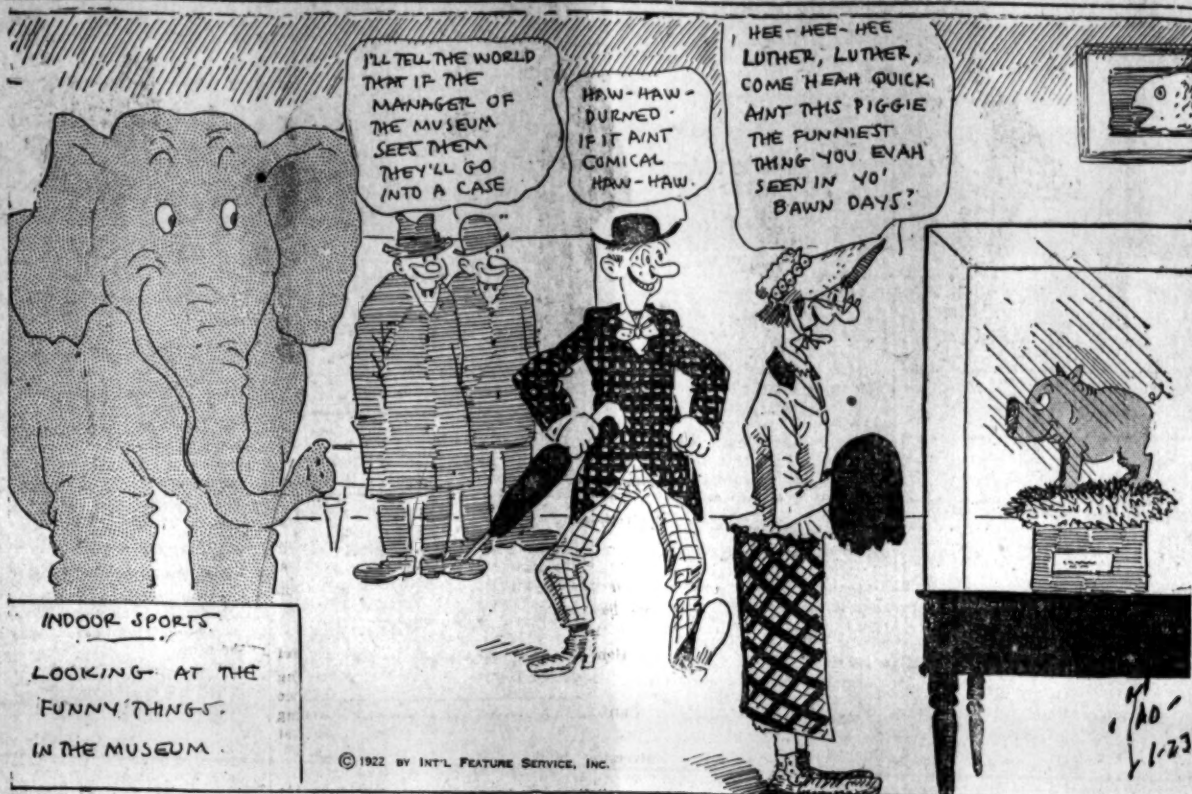

The next highest price was for Repulse Bay Chief, which was sold to Mr. H. M. H. Nemanzee for $300. Messrs. Potts and Hayim's Cutty Sark King was withdrawn at $500, and there were no offers for Hurry Up, the winner of three races.

Prices on some of the other ponies selling highest were as follows: Shek O Chief, $35; Latiao Chief, $75; Flotsam, $250; Jetam, $55; Lowa Chief, $95; Calligula, $80; Mountain Goat, $100; Stockman, $115; Neston (bought in), $115; Acopot, $90; Roman Dawn, $75; Roman Dusk, $110; Pogo, $90, and Lighting, $130.

England Beats Wales At Soccer By 1-0 Score

Stubbornly Contested Game Is Won After Free Kick Is Allowed For Foul

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 13.—In an association football match at Liverpool today, England beat Wales by 1 goal to nil.

The match was played in spring-like weather before an attendance estimated at 25,000. England attacked at the outset. Rawlings, the centre-forward, going through nicely, when he was brought down unfairly. From the resultant free kick, Kelly scored the ball and scored after two and a half minutes' play.

The game was stubbornly contested, both sides showing plenty of energy and skill. At the interval the score stood as follows:—

England 1 goal; Wales 0.

On the resumption of play, the English forwards formed a pretty combination which, however was marred by the bad shooting of Max Woosnam, the centre-half and England's captain, who was most prominent both in attack and defence. A number of good movements on both sides, however, were spoiled by over-eagerness.

Towards the end, England attacked furiously, bombarding the opponent's goal, but the English goal-keeper made the full-length saves and no further score was made.

GLASGOW LOSES.—The Corinthians beat Queen's Park (Glasgow) by two goals to nil in a friendly soccer match today at Leyton.

OFFICIAL TEXT OF 4 POWER 'RULES OF WARFARE' PACT

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Feb. 4.—The text of the resolution adopted by the Washington Conference covering the appointment of a commission on rules of warfare was as follows:

"The United States of America, the British Empire, France, Italy and Japan have agreed:

"1. That a commission composed of not more than two members representing each of the above mentioned powers shall be constituted to consider the following questions:

"(A) Do existing rules of international law adequately cover new methods of attack or defence resulting from the introduction or development, since the Hague conference of 1907, of new agencies of war?

"(B) If not so, what changes in the existing rules ought to be adopted in consequence thereof as a part of the law of nations?

"2. That notices of appointment of the members of the commission shall be transmitted to the Government of the United States of America within three months after the adjournment of the present conference, which, after consultation with the powers concerned, will fix the day and place for the meeting of the commission.

"3. That the commission shall be at liberty to request assistance and advice from experts in international law and in land, naval and aerial warfare.

"4. That the commission shall report its conclusion to each of the powers represented in its membership. Those powers shall thereupon confer as to the acceptance of the report and the course to be followed to secure the consideration of its recommendations by the other civilized powers."

The following supplementary resolution, to be added to the above, was approved today:

"Resolved, That it is not the intention of the powers agreeing to the appointment of a commission to consider and report upon the rules of international law respecting new agencies of warfare that the commission shall review or report upon the rules or declarations relating to submarines or the use of noxious gases and chemicals already adopted by the powers in this conference."

Brother Fighting Brother In Dispute Over Italian Consular Post At Harbin

MAJ. JOSEPH GIBELLO

MR. PETER GIBELLO

(In the upper pictures are the two brothers, on the left Maj. Joseph Gibello, who holds the post of Italian Consul at Harbin and on the right Mr. Peter Gibello who was deposed. In the lower picture is shown the villa of Mr. Peter Gibello at Harbin, said to be the nearest residence property in the Manchurian city.)

In the singular controversy involving the Italian Consulate at Harbin, in which brother is ranged against brother and which has stirred the interest of Italians all over China, important developments are being worked out on orders from Rome. Following an inquiry that was instituted several weeks ago by Signor Cerutti, the acting Italian Minister, it is reported that Mr. Peter Gibello has been summoned to Tientsin to give testimony in connection with the situation.

The two outstanding figures of the dispute are Mr. Peter Gibello and his brother Maj. Joseph Gibello. Up to about six months ago Mr. Peter Gibello, who was a prominent commercial figure in Harbin, held the post there of Italian Consul. In an abrupt change that was brought about he was succeeded in the Consular post by his brother Maj. Joseph Gibello. It is no secret that this change was disapproved by a large portion of the Italian community at Harbin and a dispute followed in which the entire foreign community of Harbin became more or less involved.

According to report one of the incidents in connection with Major Gibello's taking over the Consular office was the arrest of Mr. Peter Gibello. After he had suffered a period of confinement he was taken to Tientsin and then was released by the Italian authorities there afterwards coming on to Shanghai. It is said that vigorous protests against the appointment of Major Gibello to the Consular post at Harbin were addressed both to the legation at Peking and to Rome and in connection with these various charges of autocratic conduct were made against Major Gibello.

As the outcome of the situation that arose one of the first acts of the new acting Italian Minister was to despatch to Harbin a mission headed by Commander

PEACE TENDENCY CHECKS INTEREST IN NAVY LEAGUE

The general tendency toward disarmament, since the conclusion of the War was quoted in the committee's report read at the annual general meeting of the Navy League, Shanghai Branch, held at the Board Room of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Company's office yesterday, as the principal cause for the increasing lack of interest maintained in the league by its membership.

The nominal roll was given at approximately 405, which was about the same as in 1920. Income from subscriptions and donations amounted to $1,431 as compared with $1,479 in 1921. Two hundred and seventy-seven members subscribed in 1921, as compared with 295 in 1920.

Available funds at the moment, the report states, were hardly sufficient to carry on the work in view toward assisting naval men in China. A plea was made for the continued support of all members to enable the league to continue its activities.

The report mentioned at some length the litigation had last year in the British Supreme Court, over rights of way into and from their recreation grounds between Sicaewai and Great Western Roads, which is now pending on the appeal of the defendant, Mr. A. L. Anderson. It was explained that it was the intention of the league to sell the property as soon as the appeal is settled, and to apply the proceeds to the upkeep of the clubs of the navy men. The grounds it was said were not considered adaptable to the uses of the navy men since the forming of the Union Jack Club in such close proximity to the Race Club Recreation grounds.

The following officers were elected: Sir Everard Fraser, president; four representatives each from St. Andrew's, St. George's, St. Patrick's and St. David's Societies, vice-presidents; Messrs. E. F. Bateman, A. Brooke-Smith, E. F. Mackay, C. Biran, John Prentice and Desir Simon, committee-men; and Messrs. Lee Smith and E. S. Wilkinson, secretary and treasurer.

Shanghai-Hongkew Wharf Co. Meets

The annual general meeting of the Shanghai and Hongkew Wharf Co., Ltd., was held yesterday morning at the offices of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., for the purpose of electing a new board of directors and discussing the annual report and statement of accounts. Mr. A. Brooke-Smith presided and spoke as follows:

"Gentlemen.—As the report and accounts have been in your hands for some days we will with your consent take them as read."

"The working account is slightly less satisfactory than the previous year, but is not discouraging and I venture to hope shareholders will approve of the proposed appropriation of the balance at credit of profit and loss account."

"The suggested final dividend of Tls. 10 per share together with the interim dividend of Tls. 3 means that we are maintaining the same return (Tls. 13) to shareholders as for 1920."

"For ordinary and special repairs and renewals we are providing Tls. 110,000, which with the amounts at credit of those accounts, should enable our properties to receive the attention that is requisite."

"On special repairs and renewals we have in sight rather a heavy program this year as four sheds at Hongkew have to be rebuilt, while a section of the wharf staging at Hunt's Wharf needs a thorough overhaul."

"By adding Tls. 50,000 to equalization of dividend account and the same amount to depreciation fund, these accounts will each have at their credit Tls. 125,000, and we do not write off anything for depreciation. I feel sure you will agree with me that the latter fund should be augmented as quickly as circumstances permit."

"Following the course adopted last year the directors recommend the payment of a bonus to the staff at the wharves of 10 percent on salaries, absorbing Tls. 8,977.62, which I trust will commend itself to you."

"During the year no debentures have been purchased, but on March 31 Tls. 400,500 worth of 'C' debentures issued in 1912, fall due for redemption and will be paid off."

"During the year we succeeded in disposing of our South Tung-kadoo property at a price that your directors considered satisfactory. The first payment has been received and appears in the account—the balance, Tls. 487,500, with interest, is due on July 31 until when we shall be somewhat short of funds after redemption of the 'C' debentures, but the necessary arrangements for an overdraft have already been made."

"On additions and extensions we disbursed Tls. 381,147.26 during 1921. Development in the last three years has aggregated Tls. 1,201,674.24 and we are committed to a further expenditure of Tls. 100,000 in the near future, while the need will probably shortly arise for the erection of a new godown at Old Ningpo."

Wharf and transit sheds at East Pootung.

"I mention these figures in order that our clients may realize we are providing in useful time for the increasing trade of the port and that it is the intention of the directors to afford ample and efficient accommodation for those who have supported us in the past."

"The reinforced concrete wharf at East Pootung has been completed and we now own a very modern wharf, which has not its equal in Shanghai."

"Old Ningpo Wharf has been greatly handicapped by building operations but we will shortly be in a position to work at full capacity."

"At our last meeting you were provided with a schedule of our properties—with the sale of South Tung-kadoo Wharf a revision has been necessary and in your seats will be found a new schedule, showing that we now possess 487½ mow of land with a river frontage of 5,707 feet and 1,870,786 square feet of floor space in godowns."

"Last Autumn we purchased the Sallow's Home property for Tls. 50,000—it had been leased by us from the Trustees for many years to provide accommodation for the native staff at Hunt's Wharf and we considered it desirable to acquire the premises when the opportunity offered."

"During the year we berthed a few more steamers than in 1920 but on the average vessels from foreign ports brought small cargoes—this affected earnings as our godowns were not kept as fully occupied as we could have wished and at the end of 1921 there was much vacant space. In the last few weeks the incidence of the Hongkong strike, now fortunately ended, resulted in a great deal of cargo for the Southern port being landed in Shanghai from which we are benefiting, but this has been neutralized by less activity in berthing coasting vessels."

"While we have so far fortunately escaped any serious labor troubles we have in the last three years been faced with the imperative call for raising wages and coolies hire from time to time, thus adding to our working costs and we trust our clients appreciate the necessity of the increased charges that were brought into operation on January 1.

"With the increased cost of living in Shanghai there is little likelihood of reducing working costs and shipowners and merchants cannot hope to see lower tariffs for berthing and storage."

"As to the future I prefer not to prophesy, but given a satisfactory state of trade I can assure you that we are now, as a result of our development program instituted three years ago, in a position to earn more than at any time in the history of the company."

"Mr. P. A. Cox resigned from the board on his departure from Shanghai and your directors have not considered it necessary to fill the vacancy."

"Should any shareholders desire to ask questions I shall be pleased to answer them to the best of my ability."

There were no questions and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Proposed by the Chairman and seconded by Mr. C. Gordon Mackle: "That the report and accounts be adopted, that a final dividend of Tls. 10 per share be declared making with the Interim Dividend already paid Tls. 13 per share, and that the allocation of the balance of profit and loss account be recommended by the directors be passed."

Proposed by Mr. B. A. Clarke and seconded by Mr. H. H. Reid: "That Messrs. C. Gordon Mackle, H. W. Lester, C. Biron and Pan Ching-poo be elected directors of the company for the ensuing year."

Proposed by Mr. H. J. Clark, seconded by Mr. J. R. Elias: "That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected auditors for the ensuing year."

CHANG GETTING READY TO MAKE WAR ON SOMEONE

Military Preparations Proceed Busily in South Manchuria

(China Press Service)

Shanhaikuan, March 9.—Concrete evidence that Chang Tso-lin is preparing for a Spring advance meets the traveller on every hand as he passes from Shanhaikuan out into Manchuria. Within the last two weeks immense stacks of straw have been erected at every railroad station, each county being required to furnish 600,000 catties. This is said to be provided for the artillery horses, and the stacks are guarded night and day against fire and thieves. Large quantities of firewood and fuel of all kinds are now being collected.

Every town of any size along the railroad has been surveyed by the Fengtien soldiers within the last two weeks, lists being made of all the wells, hotels, available rooms and food houses. Recruiting stations have also been set up, but the young bloods are not showing a strong desire to enlist just at this time, as the situation looks rather business-like. The people along the line are very apprehensive over the impending visit of the thinly veiled outlaw hosts, especially should they be defeated and straggle back in retreat.

There are no visible preparations being made within the Wall, which indicates that Chang plans a final quick dash to his destination. Tientsin lies about 170 miles from Shanhaikuan, Peking about 200 miles. Just whom he is going to fight and where, no one knows, probably not even Chang Tso-lin himself. But he apparently thinks the next move is his. With one body of his troops already stationed between Tientsin and Peking, another at Tungchou just east of Peking, Jehol in his possession and the balance of his Mongolian Expedition waiting on the railroad at Kalgan north-west of the Capital, it looks very easy to send in a flying detachment through Shanhaikuan over the Peking-Mukden Railway closing up the gaps and holding Peking at his mercy. What will happen then? As the Chinese say, "Shu chih tao?" (Who knows?).

Flying Dragons
Were Only Aeros

(China Press Correspondence)
Haichow, Ku., March 7.—Last December the country side was just full of aeroplane stories. The people in the villages, in the hamlets, in the cities, in the market towns, on the streets in the homes, on the highways in the shops, everywhere and almost all the time, were talking aeroplane. The aeroplane stories were numerous and varied. Some of the people feared it was an invasion by their neighbors on the east of China's shore line. Flying devils, flying dragons all came in for a share of community discussion.

Only a few days ago did I get at the real facts with regard to the aeroplanes which caused all this stir and unwonted wagging of tongues. It seems that three aeroplanes, which are said to have been on their way from the Japanese to General Chang Tso-lin, lost their way. One of them fell to the earth near a small town called Hsiao Glen Dzh about fifty miles southeast of Haichow. This machine was later brought over to Hsinpu, a city about four miles from here, and put on a steamer, supposedly to be sent back to Japan.

Another of the three machines fell in the sea not so very far from here, and so far I have not heard what became of it. The third machine went on past here, it may have found its course again and reached its destination. Such is the story of three stray planes from over the way.

This winter has been a wet one for every month of it. Snow has been followed by rain and rain has been followed by snow, and all the while that it hasn't been raining or snowing it has been misty and foggy. Some of the mists have been almost equal to rains. At present the prices of all food-stuffs are tremendously high. Grain is especially high.

Because of the high water during all the summer, the potato and bean crop was almost a total failure, in some places both these crops were total failures. In all this section there is now a semi-famine condition prevailing, and in certain large areas, acute famine conditions prevail. This condition is aggravated by the fact that last year when the big wheat crop was harvested, a large part of it found its way to the famine area to the north and west of us, and much of it found its way to Japan.

Moscow, March 7.—The Rockefeller Foundation in America has sent to Russia 5,000 parcels of various goods for the benefit of people of learned professions. The committee on bettering the condition of men of science has decided to deliver the first consignment of the parcels to scientists in the famine provinces.

Birth Control Japan's Only Solution Says Baron Ishimoto

BIRTH control in the last analysis is the only way for Japan to meet the problem presented by a growing population and a static food supply, according to an article by Baron Keikichi Ishimoto published in the Asahi Weekly. Baron Ishimoto takes up the matter of the increase in population, the possibilities of emigration in various directions, and the question of importing food, but at the end comes to the conclusion that Bertrand Russell and H. G. Wells are right; Japan must regulate her population, whether it is moral or immoral. It is important to note that this article is coincident with the arrival in Japan of Mrs. Sanger, the foremost advocate of birth control in the world today. The article follows:

The investigations made last year showed that the population in Japan increases by 600,000 to 700,000 every year. It goes without saying that the situation will become more serious if this state of affairs is left alone in view of the fact that already Japan is one of the most densely populated countries on earth.

There are two ways to find a solution of the question one peaceful and the other not. By the peaceful method is meant war, but such an idea is impossible in the future in view of the international naval holiday decided upon by the Washington conference. Then attention centers around the other method—that is, the peaceful one. What is meant by it? It can be subdivided into three phases—emigration, importation of foodstuffs for the ever increasing population at home, and birth control. Is it possible for 600,000 to 700,000 persons to emigrate every year?

It is necessary to study the Japanese population abroad in order to see whether it is possible or not. The Japanese population abroad in 1919 stood at 590,000, 490,000 in 1918, and 450,000 in 1917. The rate of increase is very small and it must be remembered that the 590,000 abroad is the result of the constant emigration during the past 50 years. This is in spite of the fact that the emigration to Siberia and Manchuria and other parts of Asia has been easy although the emigration to America and Australia is made difficult. The increase of the Japanese population abroad stands at between 10,000 and 20,000 a year. In this also the Japanese children born abroad is included and so the actual rate of increase in emigration amounts to a low figure. It is therefore safe to declare it impossible to deal with the annual increase of 600,000 to 700,000 people in Japan by means of emigration. What is the reason for this failure of Japanese emigration? The opposition in America and Australia is the largest reason, of course, and the movement in those countries is not only due to racial prejudices and political reasons, but also to the low character of the Japanese immigrants in general.

What about the emigration to Korea, Manchuria and Siberia then? The Japanese emigrants to these places cannot compete with the Korean and Chinese laborers, who work for 30 to 40 sen a day. This is most convincingly illustrated by the fact that the immigration of Japanese farmers to Korea for the last 10 years amounted to only about 30,000 in spite of the most indefatigable efforts made by the Oriental Development Company for the purpose. It is therefore impossible for Japan to solve her population difficulty satisfactorily through emigration unless she finds some proper place or country where the Japanese can live comfortably.

Viscount Takahashi, the Premier, thinks that Central and South America hold bright prospects for the Japanese emigrants and urges the people to go there, but it costs about Yen. 200 per capita for emigrants to go there and another Yen. 200 before the immigrant can find a job. Thus about Yen. 400 will be required for each emigrant. Supposing Japan sends 600,000 people there, it will cost about Yen. 240,000,000. Such a huge expenditure will be impossible unless the budgets for the navy and the army are cut in half forever. The question of steamship accommodation must also be taken into consideration in this connection. A steamer of the type of the T.K.K. Shinyo Maru can carry about 800 passengers and it takes about two months for the ship to go to Central or South America and return. Supposing six return trips can be made a year, one ship can take 4,800 people a year. Thus it will be seen that 120 ships of the Shinyo Maru type would be required to carry 600,000 people there annually. The Shinyo Maru is a 30,000 ton ship and it means that 2,400,000 tons would be necessary yearly for the purpose. Now the total tonnage of Japanese shipping stands in the vicinity of 2,920,000, according to investigations made in 1920. Judging by the facts cited above, it would be impossible for 600,000 people a year to emigrate even from an economic point of view.

Next attention is drawn to the possibility of coping with the ever increasing population by means of imports of foodstuffs from abroad. The first question that has to be considered in this connection is the relation between the Japanese people and rice, which is the staple foodstuff for them. The annual rate of increase of population in Japan for the last 10 years has been 14 percent on an average, for land under cultivation 5 percent and of rice production 10 percent. As the standard of living goes higher, the consumption of rice increases year after year; today the consumption of rice stands at 1.15 koku a year per head on an average. The import of rice has been made imperative to cope with the increasing demand. The yearly import during the six years between 1915 and 1918 amounted to between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 koku on the average. What will be the relations between the population and rice in 1931 if the situation is left alone? The population will stand at 62,000,000, (at the rate of 12 percent increase a year), the rice consumption at 86,000,000 koku at the rate of 1.43 koku a year consumed per person, and the rice production in Japan at 66,000,000 koku (at the rate of 10 percent increase a year). Thus it will be seen that Japan will be suffering from a shortage of as much as 20,000,000 koku of rice a year. Calculating the price of rice at Yen. 20 per koku, Yen. 400,000,000 will be required to import the shortage.

The trade of Japan has increased between two to four times for the last ten years, while the import trade of rice will have to be increased by five to six times for the coming ten years. As a matter of fact the rice import has been worst of all import trades. Altogether it would be impossible to anticipate such a ridiculous increase in the importation of rice, but the authorities of the Department of Agriculture and Commerce always try to assure us of the possibility of meeting the increasing shortage of rice in Japan with import of foreign rice. The facts cited above, however, do not warrant such an optimistic view. By way of coping with the food problem a scientific study must be made for the increase of rice production on the one hand and the prevention of unnecessary consumption on the other. In a country like Japan, where things are washed by luxury, there may yet be room for the prevention of unnecessary consumption of rice, but as regards the increase of production, it may safely be declared to be impossible, as is shown by the fact that no country in the world produces so much rice per acre as Japan. The rice fields in Japan are taxed to their maximum extent. This view is endorsed by Dr. Othel Inagaki, the best authority on the subject in Japan. It would be impossible to solve the food problem except by eating rice mixed with various inferior cereals, which the Japanese people cannot stand.

Now the remaining way of solving the population question lies in birth control. Apart from whether it is right or wrong Japan will have to adopt the policy in order to cope with her ever increasing population. There is no other so effective way. It is most important for both the Government and the people of Japan to make a serious and careful study of the question. It is not the intention here to argue whether birth control is good or bad, or to discuss means for enforcing it. Birth control is now the most important question of the world. In England, America, France and Germany, the stage of argument is already past and these countries are now entering on the stage of practice. In Holland, the Government itself is encouraging birth control. Two of the greatest men of thought in the world, Bertrand Russell and H. G. Wells, have both warned the Japanese nation, saying that Japan must adopt birth control, an advice which the people of Japan cannot overlook.

COCAINE PEDDLERS IN CHINA

Editor: THE CHINA PRESS

Sir.—Having watched the amazing growth of the number of narcotic drug users in the United States, and how rapidly the small number of opium smokers increased from 1900 until the United States Government becoming alarmed in 1914 passed the drastic Harrison Anti Narcotic Law, a measure forbidding the distribution, sale, possession, giving away, and buying of opium, and its derivatives, unless on an order form issued by the U. S. Government and signed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. It is interesting to note after five years of enforcement of the Harrison Anti Narcotic Law by the Hon. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper, appeared before Congress in March, 1919, and made the alarming statement that there were 1,500,000 drug users in the U. S. and the majority were users of morphine, and the hypodermic syringe.

It is beyond all imagination to picture China's future, now that her millions of opium smokers are being lured to the use of the hypodermic syringe, and morphine, and the nations of the world are in competition to supply China with narcotic drugs.

It has been established as a fact by the few physicians who have studied narcotic addiction, that the use of opium or its derivatives, is not a depraved habit or vice, but the continuous use of these drugs results in turn a mechanism, or toxin in the human system, which creates a curable disease, and humanity should look upon a drug addict as a person suffering from disease, not as a dope fiend, or a depraved being.

From investigation conducted by the U. S. Government White Cross Anti Narcotic Society, of Seattle, Wash., and some of the Anti-Narcotic Societies of China a few well founded facts are established, and a recent investigation of the illicit sale of narcotic drugs in China revealed some of which we mention.

Japanese manufactured morphine, and cocaine, is in the hands of illicit drug peddlers in unlimited quantities, and is cheaper than other grades manufactured by other nations, and that the Japanese drug peddlers are inducing the villagers of Mukden and South Manchuria in large numbers in the use of drugs. As drugs are cheaper than opium they are preferred. The Yihshihpao, in a recent issue, spoke of the case with which morphine pills can be procured in all but the largest tea houses in Peking. From the big cities of Manchuria reports show a recrudescence in the use of addictive drugs which exceeds the early opium days when no restrictions were placed on their use or sale.

German manufactured heroin, Smith Bros., "an English concern" manufactured morphine and cocaine, which is a higher grade of morphine and cocaine than the Japanese, and always demanded by the addicts who are in funds, "French Flake cocaine," common- ly called "snuff" are in the hands of these drug rings in unlimited quantities and a continuous supply is being brought from Vladivostok and Dairen.

At Hongkong it is a disgrace to civilization to see England's opium farm where a force of coolies, under supervision of an English officer, are engaged daily in the boiling, manufacturing, and packing of smoking opium. These packages are sold at from 20 cents a package to three taels a tin. The writer was informed upon his visit that there was $12,000,000 worth of opium in the vault shown him.

Crude opium, and gum opium is in the hands of the Japanese and China itself, and one sees reports on file that poppy is grown extensively in Anhui, and that in the Kueichow Province poppy is planted everywhere, and the International Panama Relief office reported it had withdrawn a $10,000 fund that had been allocated to the relief of the Kueichow province, on the grounds that the famine in the province was caused by the extensive cultivation of poppy which left insufficient land for the cultivation of cereals. This condition in a province far removed from ports, and a similar condition throughout northern China spells calamity for the people.

The writer earnestly urges those Anti Narcotic Societies of Tientsin, Honan, Peking, and other places who have suspended their operations through lack of cooperation by officials to resume their investigations again, and, to communicate with the White Cross Anti Narcotic Society, at Seattle, Wash. U. S. A., whose activities and investigations have caused favorable support by Governors, Senators, and the Judiciary wherever it has operated, so that plans could be laid to organize Anti Narcotic Societies the world over into one parent body, and then a concentrated movement started to compel the abolishment of the manufacture of narcotic drugs by private concerns, and their manufacture by the Governments, and then only for medical purposes. Then, and then only will the solution of the world's greatest curse be solved. The question of how to take care of the millions of sick and suffering people the world over could be discussed, and means taken to succor them.

About the activities of these drug peddlers, I intend, with the Editor's permission, to write a separate article. I am, with thanks,

J. P.

MRS. MAIA'S PENSION

Editor: THE CHINA PRESS

Sir:—I have perused "Fairplay's" letter in your today's issue. The statement made by "Observer" re the subscription raised by the Chairman of the Club Lusitano de Shanghai, Mr. J. de Souza, was not refuted, and cannot be refuted, for the very simple reason that it is perfectly correct.

Upon the receipt of Mr. Souza's appeal I wrote him a few lines pointing out that, according to O. Liberal (a periodical published in Macao), the Portuguese Government had granted Mrs. Maia a monthly subsidy amounting to $666.66, and he explained to me in a Memo, that the appeal in question was made on the strength of a letter (not a telegram to the Chairman of the Club Lusitano de Shanghai, as "Fairplay" states) sent to Mr. Jose Nolasco, of the Chinese Customs, Shanghai, by his brother Mr. Joao Nolasco, in Lisbon.

I presume this letter was written before the Government had sanctioned the subsidies to the families of the late ex-Governor of Macao, Mr. Maia, Dr. Granjo and others, and arrived too late to have the desired effect.

In Macao, if I remember rightly, a similar appeal was made by Captain Carmona, but was soon stopped, probably owing to the news that the Portuguese Government had NOT let the families of the murdered Ministers et al. be provided for.

As to the statement so boldly made by "Fairplay" that, financially speaking, Portugal is in a chaotic state, little credit need be given to it. I do not see where and when Reuters did take changes of our Government as a huge joke. We read Portuguese papers, and they give us the knowledge of things Portuguese, which only those who read Portuguese or take interest in the affairs of our country can have.

Apparently, "Fairplay" knows very little or nothing of what is going on in Portugal. I therefore hope that he will not take what I have written above as an "illusion."

Thanking you for the publication of this letter, I am, Sir, Yours, etc.,

V. W. VICTAL

Shanghai, March 14, 1922.

Editor: THE CHINA PRESS

Sir:—"Fairplay" in his long epistle published today in your paper states that, because no member of the Portuguese Community came forward to refute my statement, which he, unceremoniously, calls misleading, he took upon himself to refute it. As inferred from his letter, I take it that he is not a member of the Portuguese Community, and therefore a stranger.

Now, Mr. Stranger, once you want to cut in on other people's affairs and somewhat arrogantly, let me tell you that I was laboring under no illusion when I said that the Portuguese Government granted a subsidy of about $700 per mensem to the widow of ex-Governor Maia, and to corroborate my statement please make a note of the following, which, as a Decree (not a letter from any individual) appeared in the Official Gazette, Lisbon:

Art. 1.—A monthly pension of 300 escudos (one escudo is roughly the equivalent of $2.00 Mex.) free of any deduction, to the widows of Dr. Antonio Granjo, Vice-Admiral Machado dos Santos, Commanders Carlos da Maia and Carlos Freitas da Silva is hereby granted.

(Articles 2 and 3 refer to pensions granted to the widows of Colonel Botelho de Vasconcellos and Chaussegue Gentil).

Art. 4.—Credits with reference to these pensions will be opened, the same to be met by the Ministry of Finance.

The above grants were made in accordance with Art. 47 (No. 3) of the Constitution of the Portuguese Republic. Comprehensive, Mr. Stranger?

Until a new Decree is issued to the contrary, the present one must stand good, and will stand until Doms-day. Now, with regard to his gratuitous and cheap remarks about my Government, which could only have emanated from a mind so diseased as that of "Fairplay," alias Mr. Stranger, no reply is necessary. I am, Sir, Yours, etc.,

OBSERVER.

BE A WORKER!

We cannot all be masters. In the world that we are in, some of us must be workers. In the turmoil and the din. When life seems tired and care-worn, And not worth its salt to you, Remember—not the masters But the workers pull it through! It means your part is splendid, By far the greater share: So set your eyes upon the blue And shoulder every care. It's the workers run the Universe And pull the big things through, So remember—glory in the fact— Fate trusted it to you.

A convivial soul found himself at 2 a.m. alone in the smoking-room of his club. Suddenly he conceived the idea that it was his duty to read the Agony Column of his newspaper.

He appeared immensely struck with an advertisement which read: "An officer about to go to Central Africa on a big-game hunting expedition, would like to meet with a companion to accompany him. Apply: Captain Black, 14, William Street."

Donning his hat and coat, he wobbled in the direction of William Street. With difficulty he discovered No. 14, and rang the bell. A head appeared at an upper window.

"Say, ol' bean," shouted the convivial one, "are you the fellow who's goin' big-game huntin'?" "Yes," came the reply.

"Well, old egg, I thought I'd hop along to say I'm sorry I can't come with you."

The League's World Court

American Idea Dominant in Long Effort That Created Tribunal

BY AMOS J. PEASLEE

Mr. Peaslee, while associated with the American Peace Commission at Paris, submitted recommendations with regard to a world court under the League of Nations. He is a member of the law firm of Peaslee and Compton of New York City.

If the Permanent Court of International Justice, which opened at The Hague on January 30, 1922, fulfills the hopes which are held for it, it will be forever a monument to Elihu Root, John Bassett Moore and James Brown

Scott, three of America's foremost international jurists, who have led in the efforts of the last quarter of a century to establish a World Court based upon American ideals of constitutional government and the American conception of the supreme importance of justice and judicial institutions.

The Championship by America of the Ideals of Justice and Judicial Institutions

From the time of the Peace of Westphalia, in 1648, and with the writings of Hugo Grotius a new school of international thought has been developing. The importance of individual freedom, of democratic institutions of government, of constitutional liberty, of justice and fair play among men and among the Governments which they create, have become the dominant motives of advanced political theories.

The French writers of the late eighteenth century were great exponents of these ideas, and the people of our thirteen Colonies founded the United States of America as one of the first practical experiments in their application.

What is the essence of the theory of government as we hold it in the United States? It is (1) that the people of the United States are the supreme sovereign power; (2) that their representatives in Congress and other legislative bodies and their President, their Governors and all other Government officials are their servants and not their lords and masters; (3) that by supreme delegations in the form of the Constitution to the United States and the constitutions of the States, the people have defined the powers and the duties of their political servants and have reserved to themselves certain fundamental rights and liberties which cannot be infringed; and (4) that if their political servants do attempt to infringe those rights, any citizen who suffers thereby may apply to the courts of the nation and finally to the Supreme Court of the United States, and though he may be the poorest and lowliest person in the most remote town, he may have the entire action of the Congress of the United States, of the President, or of a dozen States, if necessary, set aside and rendered null and void.

CORNERSTONES OF GOVT. The cornerstones of governmental institutions, therefore, according to American ideals, are (1) a Bill of Rights declaring and reserving the rights of the people and of the federated States, nations, or other units, and (2) a judicial system for the protection of those rights. In modern society the rights of individuals and of separate nations must always be circumscribed by the rights of the people as a whole. The legislative and executive departments of government are highly important as instruments for expressing and carrying out the will of the people, but the courts and the judicial system stand as the bulwarks to guard against possible usurpation of power.

Nothing is more gratifying to the patriotic American than to study the modern constitutions of the other nations of the world. Sometimes we think of the United States as a young country, and we imagine that we alone cherish ideals of liberty and democracy. What an awakening it is to find that our Constitution is one of the oldest ones now in existence. What a thrill does it give us to read the constitutions of our sister republics of South and Central America and to find written in their supreme declarations of principles of government phrase after phrase copied almost verbatim from our own Constitution!

We do not claim that our system of government has worked perfectly. Serious miscarriages of justice have sometimes occurred, but we do believe our ideals to be superior to those of any other plan which has yet been tried, and when we contemplate the prestige and the leadership which the American system has achieved; when we recall the oppression which has occurred in other countries under the guise of governmental power; when we contemplate the nations which are staggering bankrupt under a heritage of superofficialism and a superfluity of government, we do well to hold carefully to the protections of liberty, and the restrictions on governmental powers which our American system contains.

JUDICIAL INSTITUTIONS IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The analogy between national governmental institutions and international institutions should not be pressed too far. The difference in the nature of the problems, the traditions of diplomacy and international custom, the theories of sovereignty and equality of States, and the host of complicated issues and historical prejudices between nations, create situations which will always make it necessary to differentiate carefully between them.

We may be certain of one thing, however, that, just as domestic peace within nations is never stable unless there is an adequate system for the realization of justice, so there will be no permanent peace among nations until there is a complete system for realizing not only a state of calm but also justice among them. The passive ideal of peace—mere peace—whether just or unjust, will never satisfy the aspirations of human nature. Until some satisfactory mechanism is smoothly functioning to which aggrieved parties can apply, when international wrongs are threatened or committed, for a determination and protection of their rights by impartial tribunals on the basis of the facts and the justice of the case, the aggrieved parties and their champions will continue to resort to force in an endeavor to realize justice through the only means that they find available.

At various international conferences in which the United States had participated prior to the Peace Conference at Paris our delegates had been consistently emphasizing the American theory of government and had been endeavoring to open the way for its more universal application.

THE HAGUE CONFERENCES

The history of the work of the American delegates at The Hague conferences of 1899 and 1907, in their endeavors to establish a permanent court of justice through which could be developed a system of international law, and which could decide controversies upon the basis of the actual right and wrong involved, and not on the basis of diplomatic expediency, is too well known to be repeated here. The American draft plan for a Court of Arbitral Justice presented to The Hague Conference of 1907 contemplated a strictly judicial and permanent court, in which justice and not expediency should reign supreme.

The United States need not be entirely ashamed of the fact that it does not enjoy a reputation for excessive cunning and skill in the field of diplomacy. It may be justly proud of its championship of the supremacy of the ideal of justice. Although co-operating heartily with the development of arbitration under those treaties as a vast improvement upon the settlement of international disputes by force, the United States has always felt that there is a still higher ideal, superior to the methods of diplomacy or the methods of arbitration, and that is the method of judicial settlement through orderly, permanent, impartial courts of justice.

JUDICIAL INSTITUTIONS UNDER THE COVENANT OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

In view of this seasoned policy of the United States and of the tremendous struggles which our delegates at prior international conferences had made to apply the American ideals of Government to international relations, it was indeed something of a shock to observe the treatment of that policy at the conferences at Versailles.

The Covenant of the League of Nations was intended to be the greatest constitutional document ever produced. It was to be a constitution of the world. It was quite unfortunate for its defenders to take any other position. They would have been stronger if they had gone forward frankly and said so. The people of the United States knew it. They, of all people, are not afraid of a constitution—not even of a constitution of the world, if that really means a guarantee of the rights and liberties of the nations and the protection of the best interests and the welfare of the people of the world.

But before they agree to be bound by any world constitution they are entitled to be certain that it is consistent with the ideals of government which they have cherished and championed for a century and a quarter.

DEFECTS OF AMERICAN DRAFT

In the American plan for a League of Nations not only was no reference made to the prior endeavors to establish a world court, but there was no provision for any court whatever. The powers of the League were placed indiscriminately in a legislative body composed of the diplomatic representatives of the different nations and there was not even any clause authorizing the legislative body to create judicial institutions. The historical judicial institutions, the historical function of settling disputes to the legislative body and to an impartial system of arbitration instead of to an impartial judicial organization.

The defects of the American draft were rectified in part before the final completion of the treaty. In the covenant as adopted the following provision appeared as Article XIV:

"The Council shall formulate and submit to the members of the League for adoption plans for establishment of a permanent court of international justice. The court shall be competent to hear and determine any dispute of an international character which the parties thereto submit to it. The Court may also give an advisory opinion upon any dispute or question referred to it by the Council or by the Assembly."

This article was an improvement over the prospect of not having any judicial system whatever, but it was open to three serious criticisms: (1) that it did not supply the omission of a bill of rights in the covenant, (2) that it did not give the world court the dignity of constitutional creation but made it at best the mere creature of the legislative or executive will, and (3) that it gave to any recalcitrant nation against which a just claim might be filed, the constitutional right to oust the court of jurisdiction by claiming the right not to be sued without its consent.

Instead of Article XIV, and the unsatisfactory provisions for arbitration and the settlement of disputes by the legislative body of the League, the covenant should have contained a full Bill of Rights and a brief judicial article somewhat along the following lines:

The judicial power of the League of Nations shall be vested in a court of justice to be called the "world court" and in such inferior courts as the Council and the Assembly may from time to time establish.

The world court shall consist of fifteen justices selected by the Council and the Assembly. They shall hold office during good behavior and shall sit in official session at the seat of the League. Judges exercising the judicial powers of the League shall receive a compensation fixed by the Council and the Assembly and paid as part of the expenses of the League.

The judicial power of the League of Nations extends to all cases:

(a) Arising under this constitution or under treaties or other international conventions or agreements;

(b) Involving conflicting national laws;

(c) Involving Ambassadors, Ministers, diplomatic agents or consuls;

(d) Between the nations, or between the League of Nations and one or more nations, or between individuals or corporations of different nations; provided, in the last instance, that the amount involved exceeds a certain sum to be fixed by the body of delegates;

(e) Involving international transportation on the high seas or in the air.

The apportionment of original and appellate jurisdiction among the courts provided for by this article shall be determined by the Council and the Assembly.

The proceedings and records of the courts provided for by this article shall be public, except where such publicity is, in the judgment of the court to which the case is presented, prejudicial to peace or order or to the maintenance of public morality.

The Council may be constituted a court of impeachment for the trial of any member of the secretariat, or of the Council or of the Assembly or of any officer exercising the judicial power of the League, for dereliction of official duty, upon charges alleged by the Assembly, and the Council as a court of impeachment shall have exclusive jurisdiction over such cases.

Changes of this character were suggested in certain "Proposed them to constitute themselves as an "Advisory Committee of Jurists" to formulate a definite plan for the establishment of a World Court, pursuant to this article of the Covenant of the League of Nations.

By George McManus

The jurists, who accepted this invitation and who served on the Advisory Committee were as follows:

Elihu Root of the United States, with whom was associated James Brown Scott, Lord Phillimore of Great Britain, Albert de Lapradelle of France, B. C. J. Loder of The Netherlands, Arturo Ricci-Busatti of Italy, Mineichiro Adachi of Japan, Rafael Altamira of Spain, Clóvis Bevilacqua of Brazil, for whom Raoul Fernandes was substituted for a portion of the time; Baron Descamps of Belgium, Francis Hagerup of Norway.

This Advisory Committee met at The Hague on June 16, 1920, and immediately adopted as a working basis the prior efforts for the establishment of a World Court at The Hague Conference of 1899 and 1907. After numerous sessions, the Advisory Committee produced a "Project for a Permanent Court of International Justice" containing provisions setting forth its plan of organization and its powers.

The Advisory Committee recognized the limitations upon the judicial system which the Covenant of the League of Nations unfortunately contained and sought to enlarge the powers of the Court even beyond the scope permitted by the Covenant. Both the Council and the Assembly of the League of Nations, however, made certain amendments to the project as reported by the Advisory committee. The amendments restricted the powers of

How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis, ecto-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise.

During the process of ingestion,

there are settled on the teeth some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will,

by degrees, absorb away the enamel,

leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr.

KINGMAN to the subscribers consist in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly.

(2) Filling with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.

(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

The League's World Court

the Court to the scope provided by the Covenant of the League of Nations, but they opened the way for an enlargement of the Court's powers by providing that the nations may at their option confer obligatory jurisdiction upon the Court under certain conditions.

It seems probable that the Court under the present Covenant of the League of Nations will not be deemed to have power to set aside action by the Council or the Assembly of the League. It is unsafe, however, to make prophesies as to the jurisdiction which the Court may ultimately exercise.

DIVISIONS OF THE COURT

Although the language of the Covenant of the League of Nations refers to a "court," and although its founders evidently intended that the court should act only in cases where nations are parties before it
